

Pot Beetle Hunt at Loch Rannoch!

When: 7th and 8th July 2018 from 11am-4pm

Meeting Place: Parking area opposite Kinloch Rannoch post office, Loch Rannoch (South Road).

Pot beetles are a fascinating and charismatic group of leaf and petal-eating beetles that are very rare in Scotland!

This survey day is being organised to assess the status and remaining habitat for the rare Ten-spotted pot beetle (Cryptocephalus decemmaculatus), that is found in damp deciduous woodland at Loch Rannoch in beautiful Perthshire.

If you would like to come along to help with the search for this amazing beetle, please book by contacting Scott Shanks on 01786 447504 and scott.shanks@buglife.org.uk

Please Note that parking is very limited at the site, we will be meeting each morning at Kinloch Rannoch before car-sharing to the site. A lift may be available from Glasgow or Stirling, please get in touch for further details on travel.

This project is funded by Scottish Natural Heritage.
